

Questions on Information: The Basis For Life

1. There are two views of life - _____ and _____
2. 3 explanations for how things happen - _____, _____, _____
3. Evolution assumes that the universe consists of _____ and _____
4. Creation assumes the universe consists of _____, _____, and _____
5. Information has 4 parts: _____, _____, _____, _____
6. In writing, the 4 parts are _____, _____, _____, _____
7. In writing, the information is stored on _____
8. What causes a sentence to be written? Chance? Law of nature? Intelligent writer?
9. In computers, the information is stored on _____ and programs are run on a _____
10. In living systems, the information is stored in the _____, the molecule of life
11. How many cells are in your body?
12. Are machines/motors designed/built by chance? Or does this require an intelligent mind?
13. Are there machines in your body?
14. What does "irreducible complexity" mean? _____ parts are required
15. Do programs happen by chance? If not, how do they come to be?
16. Are the DNA programs in our human cells more complex than computer programs?
17. What are the 4 parts of information in the living cell? ___ letters, codons, proteins, reproduction
18. Is it possible to form one protein by chance?
19. Life consists of _____, _____, and _____
20. Life requires _____, _____, _____, _____, and _____
21. _____ is the basis for life & Information requires an _____ _____!